My character Xavier is a person that has a passion for singing and playing instruments. The reason he likes singing is because his great grandfather was in a music band. Music runs in the family.

My other character is Jacob. He also likes singing but he also likes sports. He loved sports his entire life and he is on a basketball team. He has a passion for sports.

My next character is a person that has passion for playing guitar. His name is Daniel Alcantara he absolutely likes to play guitar more than any instruments. But he also has a passion for acting also.

This last character is my biggest friend his name is Jordan. We all like singing and we all like the same song "When I'm 64". He also likes playing woodwinds.

It was morning Xavier, Jordan, Daniel , and Jacob were getting ready for a play about the Beatles that night. It was the night of the play, they were getting prepared for the play when there was a power outage, the night was ruined. It was the next morning. It was Daniel's birthday and all of them went to homeroom before their day started.

Later that night the four friends were celebrating Daniel's birthday to celebrate him. They were all happy for him. They returned to school the next day to do their normal routines all over again. It was the 4th of July the four guys favorite day which is the time when everyone celebrates with food. Actually that's the only reason why they like the fourth of July.
